International Partnerships Grow

Norielyn C. Tabag

Creates more pathways toward Internationalization of SBU

Faithful to its commitment in boosting partnership in the local, regional, and international academic institutions, San Beda University has a total of nine (9) networks, which opens to one thousand one hundred forty-one (1,141) multilateral partners, and thirty-eight (38) bilateral partnerships.

SBU's additional two (2) networks are Wadhvani Operating Foundation (WOF Global) and University Mobility for Asia and the Pacific (UMAP) Philippine National Secretariat. These networks are distinct to each other as they offer different international programs for students, staff, and faculty.

The memorandum of understanding was made between SBU and Wadhvani Operating Foundation (WOF Global) on 13 April 2018. WOF Global is a foundation whose primary mission is to accelerate economic development by creating large-scale job initiatives through entrepreneurship, skills development, and innovation in cooperation with government agencies, private corporations, and educational institutions, among others.

In the same manner, on 8 May 2018, the University Mobility for Asia and the Pacific (UMAP) Philippine National Secretariat granted SBU its membership to the association. Chaired by the Commission of Higher Education (CHED), UMAP, as a voluntary government and non-government association, aims that countries and territories in the Asia-Pacific region to achieve a better understanding of the cultural, economic, and social systems through enhanced cooperation among higher education institutions and to increase mobility of university students and staff. The programs of the said association include multilateral and bilateral exchange programs, super short-term programs, summer programs, and research net financial support program.

Subsequently, there are thirteen (13) bilateral partnerships with other academic institutions and Local Government Unit as follows:

- American International University, Bangladesh
- Australian Catholic University, Australia
- Wufeng University, Taiwan
- School of Health Sciences of Pantj Rapih, Indonesia
- The Catholic University of America, United States of America (USA)
- Master's Institute of Development Academy and Seminary, Philippines
- Korea University of Media Arts, Korea
- EMPI Group of Institution, New Delhi, India
- College of New Caledonia, Canada

- California Baptist University, California, USA
- University of Sacred Heart, Tokyo, Japan
- St. Paul Institute, Cambodia
- University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland (FHNW)

These new partnerships aim to foster SBU's commitment in developing academic and research activities through student exchange and faculty visits to ensure the promotion of educational cooperation. Moreover, the partnership with Local Government Unit (LGU) is to ensure smooth implementation of the ASEAN Learning Network's banner program and the Social Enterprise for Economic Development (SEED) Program in Antipolo City.

In support, Dr. Tita-Evasco Branzuela, the Vice President for Linkages and International Affairs, said that: "These new partnerships are all designed for the presence of San Beda University be felt in the global world. Hence, the Office ensures that programs/projects of the partners and SBU are considered in appropriate matching to maximize resources. The growth in numbers make partnerships become stronger, there are more pathways toward internationalization of SBU".

San Beda University (SBU) sent delegates to partner-universities' Social Enterprise for Economic Development (SEED) Program to bolster global outlook, deepen disciplinary perspectives and foster transformational leadership through social enterprise.

The SEED Program is ASEAN Learning Network's (ALN) flagship agenda. It is organized annually by member-universities in corresponding countries. To date, the Program has been held in the Philippines, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, and Vietnam.

"SEED is a cross-cultural program utilizing social entrepreneurship as means towards economic progress," remarked Norielyn Tabag, Associate for Linkages and International Affairs. "It provides structured opportunities for international students and faculty to converge, interact and conduct on-site research as basis for development of real-time business plans for the benefit of a local community," she added.

"The exchange of ideas, knowledge, and the fostering of understanding across geographical and cultural divides is of the essence (of the Program)," said Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ma. A. Maranan, OSB, Rector-President of SBU and ASEAN Learning Network's Vice Chair.

Below are SBU's delegates to the recent SEED Programs held by ALN member-universities:

To amplify consciousness on activities that seek to compromise digital devices, such as computers, smartphones, tablets, and even entire networks, an awareness session on cybersecurity and ethical hacking rolled out on March 28, 2019 at the Wilfrido Rojo Conference Hall.

Sankarraj Subramanian, Founder and Director of Prompt Infotech India, demonstrated to administrators faculty, students, and staff how hackers gain access to social media accounts, data banks, and other sensitive digital information. Subramanian, a renowned international speaker & cyber security consultant with solid years of experience in pen testing, ethical hacking, vulnerability assessment, and cyber forensics gave relevant tips on how to lessen one's vulnerability to hacking.

The awareness session was also attended by representatives from other schools from the Mendiola Consortium and ACCESS Computer College.

"Mr. Subramanian has visited around 30 countries in relation to his work as certified ethical hacker. He has also delivered numerous international trainings - Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences in the Netherlands, State University of Management in Moscow, to name a few. San Beda University is blessed to have him as a resource person," remarked Dr. Tita Evasco-Branzuela, Vice President for Linkages and International Affairs.

The Office of Linkages and International Affairs, in coordination with the Office of the Vice President for Academics, College of Arts and Sciences, BEDAnet, and Strategic Communications Office collaborated with Prompt Infotech India for the seminar and awareness session.

International E-Lecture and Students Research Presentation

Digital technology has brought many changes in the modern world. It has many advantages that includes easy access to communication, social connectivity, work versatility, and even in the field of education. Thus, technology, specifically the internet, has a vital role, especially for San Beda University in reaching its international partners.

The Office of Linkages and International Affairs' Vice President, Dr. Tita Evasco-Branzuela, and the College of Arts and Sciences' (CAS) Chairperson for Psychology Department, Dr. Annabel D. Quilon, in partnership with Universiti Malaysia Kelantan (UMK), Malaysia collaborated to host the e-lecture and research presentations.

Aligned with the San Beda University's institutional theme for the year 2018, Stewardship towards God's Creation, the E-Lecture and Research Presentation on the Human Psyche and Stewardship of God's Creation, was held on 25 April 2019 at Pamanang Bedista. Four (4) Psychology students in the College of Arts and Sciences of SBU presented their papers entitled:

Korean Pop Idols' Impact on Filipino Female Adolescent's Visual Standards in Dating
Christine Joyse T. Alarva

Boosting Self-Esteem of Female Young Adults through Cosmetic Application
Ena Monique Fernandez

The Possible Risk of Depression among Filipino Female Undergraduate Call Center Agents
Jaizal Canlas

Consumers' Motivation behind the Use of Stainless-Steel Straws
Carl Garrett Tagala

Subsequently, Dr. Noel Santander, SBU Faculty of the CAS Department of Theology delivered his lecture entitled, Quantum Understanding of the Human Psyche through the Psi Function of Auric Sensitivity, and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Yohan Kurniawan of UMK Centre for Language Studies and Generic Development shared to Psychology students of SBU and UMK his lecture entitled, The Study of Personality: Students with Hysteria. Dr. Santander is the first SBU outbound (international) e-lecturer and the third as lecturer to partner universities. OLIA Vice President, Dr. Tita Evasco-Branzuela and CAS Dean, Dr. Christian Bryan S. Bustamante were the other two international lecturers to Indonesia, and the United of States of America (USA), respectively.

OFFICE OF LINKAGES AND LINKAGES AND INT'L AFFAIRS

LEAPS & BOUNDS

Joel G. Filamor

The turn of the century ushered rapid developments in the ASEAN region and the world. Consequently, emerging paradigms shape the contiguous economic, social and education landscapes.

To keep pace, San Beda University Rector-President Fr. Aloysius Ma. A. Maranan, OSB, saw synergy among institutions of higher learning as an efficient strategy to meet surmounting challenges. In his mind, the crucial mission of gearing Bedans for admission into the demanding global work force requires advancement of long term goals of campus internationalization, faculty re-tooling, expansion of disciplinal perspectives and re-invigoration of academic discourses. In March 2014, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, he incepted the Office of International Cooperation to ensure the global positioning of the institution and its stakeholders.

Two years after, on July 23, 2016, the office was renamed Linkages and International Affairs, thereby elevating Dr. Tita Evasco-Branzuela from Director to Vice President. The upgrade expanded the functions of the office to meet the demands of 21st century global education head on.

Five years after its inception, the office toiled to internationalize the university. On the occasion of its 5th year anniversary, the following leaps and bounds are worth looking into:

The ASEAN Learning Network (ALN) was established in 2009 during the 50th-anniversary celebration of ITB in Indonesia. The ALN celebrated its 10th anniversary last March 5-7, 2019 at Primiera Hotel, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. At the same time, the 3rd ALN Executive Committee meeting and Development Planning Workshops were held. Presidents, Rectors, and representatives of 10 member universities from Thailand, Vietnam, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, and Switzerland participated. SBU's Rector-President Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ma. A. Maranan, OSB (ALN Vice Chair) and VP for Linkages and International Affairs Dr. Tita Evasco-Branzuela (ALN Deputy Executive Director, Philippines) attended all the activities.

SBU received two awards during the anniversary celebration: 1) as ALN Institutional Founding Member, and 2) Social Enterprise for Economic Development (SEED) Program Organizer. Fr. Rector received the ALN Service Award. Notably, San Beda is one of the founding institutional members of the Network with Institut Teknologi Bandung (ITB), Indonesia; Universiti Malaysia Kelantan, Malaysia; Banking University HCMC, Vietnam; and University of St. Gallen, Switzerland. ALN

Dr. Branzuela, a member of the ALN Management Team assisted Dr. Wee Yu Ghee (ALN Secretary and ALN Deputy Executive Director, Malaysia), Dr. Li Choy Chong, (ALN Executive Director) Prof. Em of the University of St. Gallen, Switzerland in the preparations for the March 5-7 activities of the Network.

Concrete plans on incoming Social Enterprise for Economic Development Programs 2019 in Malaysia, Vietnam, and the Philippines were discussed during the planning and workshop sessions. Joint research and publications were likewise prioritized in the areas of business, social sciences, humanities, and technology.

INTERNATIONALIZATION AS PEACE INITIATIVES

Notes on SBU's Journey for Global Competitiveness and Citizenship

Tita Evasco-Branzuela, Ph.D.

Since 2014 with the institutionalization of internationalization efforts, San Beda University through its Office of Linkages and International Affairs, has become an active member of nine (9) international organizations. These are networks of universities research institutions and other related associations focused on meeting challenges, trends, and opportunities of the higher-education sector. Such is attested by the university Rector-President, Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ma. A. Maranan, OSB working harmoniously working and productively holding five (5) key leadership positions in international organizations namely: the ASEAN Learning Network (ALN) as Vice Chair, Regional Network for Poverty Eradication (RENPER) as Council

“Recognizing the global developments, trends, challenges, and opportunities in the field of higher education, SBU keenly aligns with national pronouncements.”

Member, SWISS-ASEAN Learning and Teaching Association (SALT) as member of the Advisory Board, Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning (ASAIHL-National Council Philippines) as Secretary, and the Association of Southeast and East Asian Catholic Colleges and Universities (ASEACCU) as member of the Executive Board.

The initiatives and engagements showcase the administration’s commitment to San Beda’s educational apostolate in line with the university’s vision, mission and objectives as it continues to boost its international presence sharing Bedan Benedictine values as competent peace-loving servant-leaders to the world.

Past administrations (1991-2009) have had records of San Beda establishing linkages either through the then Research, Planning, and Development Center (RPDC), Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and/or the Academic Departments. These were mostly through regular memberships in local and national professional organizations and associations. Likewise, there were short-term collaborations requiring no formal written formal agreements.

In 2010 as Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ma. A. Maranan, OSB commenced his first term as Rector-President, one of the major thrusts of his administration was to strengthen and fast-track the establishment of linkages between San Beda and other academic institutions, government agencies, industry, and professional associations not only in local and national settings. Under his leadership, the existing international network memberships were revisited such as ASAIHL, and the ASEAN Learning Network, which San Beda co-founded in February 2009 with Banking University of Ho Chi Minh City (BUH), Vietnam; Institut Teknologi Bandung, Indonesia; Universiti Malaysia Kelantan, Malaysia; and Asia Research Centre, and University of St. Gallen, Switzerland.

From 2011-2013 given priority was the establishment of more international linkages through the RPDC, then renamed in 2011 as Research Planning and Resource Development Center. The Research Manager (RM) assisted the Office of the Rector-President in formalizing international linkages by way of membership in multilateral educational organizations and entering into MOU/MOA for bilateral partnerships for long-term engagements. Collaborations on academics, research, and community engagements were then initially made part of the functions of the RM.

Thus, with the approval of the Board of Trustees of the Office of International Cooperation (OIC) under a Director in March 2014, and in July 2016 as the Office of Linkages and International Affairs under a Vice President the Office took charge of the international-related activities. In a span of five years, 2014-2019 San Beda, in its journey to institutionalize and formalize its effort for productive collaboration for administrators, faculty, staff and students beyond local and national boundaries has already moved forward long way.

Recognizing the global developments, trends, challenges, and opportunities in the field of higher education, SBU keenly aligns with national pronouncements, and observes the Commission on Higher Education Memorandum Orders (CHED-CMOs) internationalization policies, frameworks, and guidelines among others, "...to facilitate the development of human resource base that will be responsive to the demands of the 21st century."

With the Commission on Higher Education Memorandum Order (CMO) No. 55 s. 2016, San Beda's internationalization activities and engagements then and onwards fall under the following categories: 1) home / campus-based or those done within national borders; and 2) cross-border or those done beyond national borders. These apply to academics, research and community engagement activities of administrators, faculty, staff and students. Participation, presentation, or organizing seminars, conferences, programs, trainings, educational visits, exchange lecturers, students among others, could either be home-based or cross-border.

As the SBU celebrates the 5th year anniversary of its internationalization initiatives, worth noting are the efforts of the past and present administration, Board of Trustees, and the contribution of the Benedictine community and all the members of the Bedan academic family. Worth noting is SBU's vision-mission that is, "San Beda University envisions a community that is fully human, wholly Christian, truly Filipino, and GLOBALLY COMPETITIVE." Aptly so, the Office of Linkages and International Affairs through its vision and mission has continuously been meeting the accomplishment indicators based on the Five-Year Smart Plan to:

1. Boost the international presence of San Beda;
2. Foster strong bilateral / multilateral; linkages to support and enhance San Beda's academic programs, research and community engagement;
3. Steward the alignment of departmental strengths and capabilities towards productive engagement with international partners;
4. Steward the alignment of departmental strengths and capabilities towards productive engagement with Possible International Partners;
5. Sustain home-based internationalization activities for students, faculty, administrators and staff; and
6. Sustain cross-border internationalization activities for students, faculty, administrators and staff.

Moving on as a University, the Office shares the passion of the administration and the Benedictine community to further boost San Beda's presence to the world... with competent professional servant leaders who are committed, humble, respectful, innovative, sensitive, and trustworthy peace-loving global citizens. (Continued next page)

Moving onwards as a University, San Beda's milestones in boosting partnership and increasing its global presence can be attested by the increase in number of networks and bilateral partners that is has on record. From a combined total of 24 in the Five-Year Smart Plan 2017-2022, as of June 2018, it already has a combined 34 linkages (9 networks and 25 bilateral partners) as shown in the figure above presented in the List of Networks and Partners.

Active leadership and participation of the Rector-President continue to usher in more linkages. Documented internationalization activities from January to April 2018, SBU had already reached a total of 13, of which 11 were academics and 2 were research encompassing community engagements. These were realized with two networks, 5 foreign universities and 2 other international institutions with a total of 137 participants.

Incoming activities July-October 2018 are the following: ALN –ITB (Institut Teknologi Bandung) Indonesia SEED Program; ALN-SBU (San Bida University) SEED Program; ALN-BUH (Banking University) Vietnam SEED; Association of SouthEast Asian Catholic Colleges and Universities (ASEACCU) International Conference Japan, RENPER8 International Conference, October, and ASAIHL-NCP Conference also in October. ALN-SBU and RENPER8 are organized by the Office of the Rector-President through the LIA office in collaboration with SBCBEFI and other academic and non-academic offices. SBU on the other hand is a co-organizer of the ASAIHL NCP International Conference.

Current internationalization opportunities are in place for and being taken cared of by academic and non-academic offices, which can be summed up using CHED's categorization as people mobility (e.g. faculty, student exchanges, scholarships, OJT, joint field research grants), program mobility (e.g. twinning programs, maximization of technology, curriculum/ program benchmarking), and institutional mobility (e.g. branch campuses cross-border).

Noted ongoing alignment and matching College of Arts and Sciences, Graduate School of Business, College of Law: Business, Curriculum benchmarking; Faculty Exchange Program, Visiting Lecturers/ Resource Speakers; Student Exchange, OJT; Research and Development Center-Office for Research and Innovations; Joint research and publication; CAS and ICIC (Institutional Community Involvement Center) Community Immersion, Exposures; with universities and institutions from partners - ASEAN Learning Network (ALN) members, Regional Network for Poverty Eradication (RENPER) members, SWISS-Asean Learning and Teaching (SALT) Association, and Association of Southeast and East Asian Catholic Colleges and Universities (ASEACCU); and bilateral partners are further being explored.

These however are being addressed by concerned Colleges in coordination with bilateral partners and networks. The transnational education, twinning program are in the offing with the focus on the Autonomous Status of SBU to be regained soon. A possible SBU branch campus and establishment of a residential school for the poor are likewise under further review.

OLIA SPEARHEADS THE 2nd ALN-SBU URBAN SEED

Raffy D. Quines

San Beda University (SBU) under the Office of the Vice-President for Linkages and International Affairs organized the 2nd URBAN SEED and the 5th SEED Program of ALN (ASEAN Learning Network) and SBU last August 11-23, 2019 in the City of Antipolo. URBAN SEED 2019 aims to contribute to the transformation of the mindset of the participants and the locals in the process of context-based integration of academic knowledge, skills in research, and community engagement strategies for community development.

There were forty-three local and international participants participated in the program. Three international facilitators were invited from SBU's partner universities namely: Prof. Farok Bin Zakaria, Ph.D. of Prince of Songkla University, Thailand; Prof. Titiek Kartika Hendrastiti, Ph.D. of Universitas Bengkulu, Indonesia; and Prof. Fernando Mulia of Parahyangan Catholic University, Indonesia. There were twelve facilitators and one head facilitator from San Beda University. Four student-delegates from St. Paul Institute, Cambodia; four from Universiti Malaysia Kelantan (UMK); four from Parahyangan Catholic University (UnPAR), Indonesia; and two observers from University of Economics of Ho Chi Minh City (UEH), Vietnam and Universiti Malaysia Kelantan (UMK). To add more in the list of student-delegates, there were six from SBU- College of Arts and Sciences, and ten from Senior High School, Manila and Rizal Campuses.

There were six urban communities recommended by the City Social Welfare and Development as the SEED sites for the local and international facilitators and delegates. These communities are: Barangay Cupang, Barangay San Luis, Barangay San Isidro, Barangay Mayamot, Barangay Dalig, and Barangay Sta. Cruz.

The activities commenced with an opening ceremony and Dr. Branzuela delivered a lecture on "Transformational Leadership" at San Beda University Rizal Campus followed by a seminar-workshop on SEED Methodology and Framework and SEED Site Orientation at Le Blanc on August 12, 2019. On August 13, the participants had the market exposure in the morning and continued their detailed discussion on framework and methodology in the afternoon.

From August 14-19, fieldwork and community exposures in the assigned sites were the major activities including meetings with local government officials, community leaders, and residents. Focus group discussions, informal interviews, visits to households, and farms were done to gather information and engage the stakeholders to share information on their major concerns and plans for themselves and their community.

Based on the information gathered from the documents, interviews with residents, and from the city and barangay officials, each group came up with their own proposed business concepts/plans for the community to consider. The plans were initially presented to the site residents in the morning of August 20 for comments and suggestions and then the final presentation to the local government unit including the City Administration, City Social Welfare and Development Office, City Cooperative and Livelihood Office, school officials, and other stakeholders was held in the afternoon of August 21. A panel of local experts evaluated the presentations and provided inputs for consideration in the development of the plans. The panel rated the presentations as Very Good. Antipolo City tour and souvenir shopping were conducted on 22 August 2019. On that same day, a farewell dinner was held to close the program that was attended by other SBU administrators.

ALN-SBU URBAN SEED 2019 is an institutional effort of SBU's concerned colleges, departments, and offices with the local government of Antipolo City, LGU officials, and the ALN partner institutions. For this year's SBU-SEED Program as in 2014, 2015, 2016, and 2018, Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ma. A.
